

These disputations being thus discoursed and ended, which were at Oxforde in the moneth of April, as is aforesayd: now let vs retorne againe to the prosecuting of our Booy, touching other things likewise y^e happened in other parties of the realme, in this tumultuous time of Queene Marie. And because things that happened in that time, were so many and diuers, that it is hard to keepe a perfecte order in reciting them all: to the entent therfore to inserte things least out before, or els to prosecute the same more at full, we haue thought heere a litle to interrupt the order of time (albeit not much) returning againe to the moneth of Iulie the yeare before, videlicet. 1553. In this meane time it was noysed abroade by running rumours falsely and craftely deuised, cyther to stablisy the credite of the Masse, or els to bynyge Thomas Cranmer Archbisshop of Canterbury out of credite, that he to currye fauour with Queene Marie, shoulde promise to say Dirige Masse after the old custome, for king Edward, and that he had already sayd Masse at Caunterburie, &c. Wherfore to stoppe the noyse and slander of those rumours, the sayde Thomas Archb. of Caunter. the 7. day of September sette forth a letter, which was also printed, in purgation of himselfe, the copie of which letter heere ensueth,

A purgation of Thomas, Archbisshoppe of Caunterburie, against certaine sclaunders falsely raised vpon him.

AS the deuill, Christes auncient aduersarie, is a lier and the father of lies, euen so hath he stirred vp his seruants and members, to persecute Christ and his true worde and religion with lying: which hee ceaseth not to doe most earnestly at this present time. For where as the Prince of famous memorie kinge Henrie the eighte seeinge the great abuses of the Latine Masse, reformed some things therein in his life time, and after our late soueraigne Lord king Edward the 6. tooke the same whole away for the manifolde and great errors and abuses of the same, and restored in the place therof Christes holy Supper according to Christes own institution, and as the Apostles vsed the same in the primatiue Church: the deuill goeth about nowe by lying to ouerthrow the Lodes holy Supper againe, and to restore his Latine satisfactorie Masse, a thing of his owne inuention and deuise. And to bringe the same more easlye to passe, some haue abused the name of mee Thomas Archb. of Canterbury, brutring abroad that I haue set vp the Masse againe at Caunterburie, & that I offered to say Masse at the buriall of our late soueraigne prince K. Ed. 6. & that I offered also to say Masse before the Queenes highnesse and at Pauls Church, and I wot not where. And although I haue bene well exercised these xx. yerres to suffer and beare euill reports and lyes, and haue not bene much greued thereat, but haue borne all things quietly, yet when vtrue reports & lyes turne to the hinderance of Gods truth, they are in no wise to be suffered. Wherefore these bee to signifie vnto the world, that it was not I that dyd set vp the Masse at Caunterburie, but it was a false flatteryng, lying, and dissembling
